

REDS STEM NAZI DRIVE AGAINST STALINGRAD

Giant Raids Staged by RAF on Vital German Centers

Situation at Great Volga City Still Admittedly Grave

BY EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Aug. 28—(AP)—Battle-grimed German forces which fought their way 400 miles from the Ukraine to the Volga valley reached the distant approaches to Stalingrad today, but Russian dispatches said they were blocked there by swarms of Red army infantry who closed in from all sides.

The situation at the great Volga city of Stalingrad admittedly was grave, with a fight raging to a climax, but Russian reports took the encouraging tone that shock troops of the Nazi assault had been forced to form the classic round defense and fight for survival.

One German armored spearhead was reported cut off completely and encircled on the sun-baked Steppes northwest of Stalingrad.

The main German forces streamed up from the rear in a desperate attempt to make good their breakthrough by force of numbers, and live bombers began destructive attacks on the city.

The Red army was numbering some 100,000 men in the suburbs of Stalingrad where the Germans held out 130 miles from Moscow through last winter's Russian push.

Red Star declared that the fight on Stalingrad held "the key to victory" so important was regarded the great industrial town which sprawls for miles along the low west bank of the mighty Volga.

With the stiffening of the Russian last ditch stand there, dispatches declared that in one salient (presumably northwest of the city) the Russians had hurled the Germans back in local counter-attacks, recapturing three settlements.

The defenders were hardest pressed from the southwest where the Germans were reported charging over mounds of their own dead.

Pravda reported that a strong force of Nazi paratroopers who landed behind the Stalingrad line and seized temporary control of a road junction had been wiped out, heaped moving at a slower pace.

Fighting for the Caucasus appeared moving at a slower pace now that the battles had moved into mountain passes more easily defended.

(The German high command reported that German troops forced their way across several mountain passes in the Caucasus and annihilated dispersed Soviet troops which stood in the way.

"Southwest of Stalingrad," it was announced, "the German offensive is gaining ground against stubborn enemy resistance."

(The high command said the Russians were attacking on the Don front (apparently near the Voronezh area) and on the central front, but declared that the Red army's thrusts were repulsed.

"Southwest of Kaluga and near Zhitomir," it was announced, "the enemy was smashed up on several places in cooperation with the Luftwaffe. Local enemy attacks (Turn to Page Thirteen)

RAGING LAND BATTLE FOR NEW GUINEA

Disappearance of Battered Enemy Fleet From Tulagi Area Narrows Struggle In Southwest Pacific

LOSSES UNDETERMINED

BY JOHN H. WIGGINS

Washington, Aug. 28—(P)—A raging battle to break a Japanese grip in southwestern New Guinea developed swiftly in crocodile-infested swamplands today as American naval and air forces emerged apparently victorious in the second round of the Solomon Islands conflict.

Disappearance of a battered enemy fleet from the U. S. controlled Tulagi area of the Solomons temporarily narrowed the struggle in the southwest Pacific to two Japanese footholds on New Guinea.

Enemy forces which landed two days ago at Milne Bay, some 225 miles from the strong Allied New Guinea base at Port Moresby and 420 miles from the Australian mainland, were pounced by an Allied land-air attack that destroyed Japanese planes, troops, supplies and fuel dumps.

General MacArthur's Australian headquarters reported that Allied airmen shot down 12 or 14 enemy planes during the day in fights over Milne Bay and the Japanese base at Buna, 180 miles up the northeastern coast of New Guinea. Earlier Japanese losses at the swampy Milne Bay landing including a transport, probably a carrier and six landing barges.

While modern naval warfare might result in turning a withdrawal into another large scale invasion attempt in a matter of days or even hours, the enemy's disappearance was regarded generally as a victory for U. S. Marines and American naval and air forces.

Meatless Day Each Week Is Possibility

Washington, Aug. 28—(P)—President Roosevelt, visualizing the possibility of the imposition of a meatless day each week on the American people, declared today that this would permit the freeing of 30 or 40 cargo ships now used to transport meat.

He told his press conference he did not know when the people might be asked to give up meat one day a week, inasmuch as the full effect on the difficult problem of transportation still is under study.

But he said that 30 or 40 vessels now bringing meat from New Zealand, Australia and Argentina could be devoted to transportation of tanks, planes and munitions, if a meatless day is instituted.

SIX DIE WHEN AUTO STRIKES LOADED TRUCK

Gay Roller Skating Party Turns Into Tragedy Near Shamokin During Mid-night Ride

ANOTHER BADLY HURT

Shamokin, Aug. 28—(P)—A head-on crash of an automobile and a loaded coal truck turned a gay roller skating party into a tragedy near here last night, killing six young persons and injuring a seventh critically.

A brother and sister and their niece were among the victims.

The accident occurred on a mountain road between Shamokin and Trevorton shortly before midnight. The machines came together with such force that two girls were thrown through a window of the car, landing several feet away. The other occupants were crushed as the sides of the car crunched together.

The dead: Verdine Tharp, 15, Fisher's Ferry; Vernon Tharp, 20, his brother; Florence Clark, 18, niece of Verdine and Vernon Tharp, with whom she lived; Helen Schlenker, 16, Trevorton; Mae Drumbeller, 17, Trevorton; Inez Ross, 16, Fisher's Ferry.

The injured: Margaret Alexander, 16, of Trevorton, in Shamokin hospital, with a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Two of the cars were scattered over 200 feet of highway, complicating the task of removing bodies of the victims from the wreckage, and state police ordered the road closed.

Coroner Sydney Kallaway of Northumberland county said the car, believed to have been driven by Verdine Tharp, passed the first truck in a caravan of three headed toward them, sidwiped the second, spun around on the highway and crashed head-on into the third.

Drivers of the last two trucks were held in $1,000 bond pending an inquest. They gave their names as Harry M. Garman, 18, of Harrisburg, and Bruce Stroecker, 22, of Halifax, Pa.

State police said Stroecker, driver of the tractor-trailer involved, told them he saw the car coming toward him, and put was going to be a crash, and put his head down on the seat of the truck.

Stroecker was slightly injured, but two persons riding with him were unhurt.

A charge of involuntary manslaughter was placed against Stroecker by State Policemen James Lewis and L. M. Armbruster.

The victims were on their way home from a roller skating rink at nearby Herndon.

BASE FOR SUB OPERATIONS IS MAIN TARGET

Baltic Port of Gdynia and Key Plane - Producing Center of Kassel Both Badly Damaged

THIRTY PLANES LOST

London, Aug. 28—(P)—In twin raids on the key plane-producing center of Kassel and the Baltic Port of Gdynia in former Poland, the RAF spread the massed might of its bombers last night from end to end of Germany, the British announced today.

To carry the great onslaught to smash the Nazi war machine across the middle breadth of Germany in Gdynia, the British had to fly more than 1,500 miles round-trip from their home bases under a moonlit sky.

This was another long step forward in the avowed British policy to help Soviet Russia—a smash at the Baltic harbor where the 26,000-ton German battleship Gneisenau was known to have been recently and at an important base for U-boat operations against the Red navy's Baltic fleet.

Besides 20 bombers lost in what was called a "concentrated and effective" bombardment of Kassel, the air ministry announced that two fighter-planes were downed in night sweeps over enemy-occupied France in which Hurricane fighter-bombers left two ships burning in the channel.

Keeping up the attack on a day and night basis, fighter planes roared across the channel throughout the morning, and in the afternoon a powerful force of bombers escorted by fighters swept east— (Turn to Page Thirteen)

CHUHSIEN IS RE-OCCUPIED BY CHINESE

Most Important Base From Which Japan Could Be Bombed, Claimed Taken In Late Dispatches

ANOTHER CITY ENTERED

Chungking, Aug. 28—(P)—The Chinese have re-entered Chuhsien, western Chekiang province, and have re-occupied the great airfield just outside the city, most important of the East China bases from which Japan could be bombed, Chinese dispatches from there declared today.

Chinese columns made their way into the city at 4 o'clock this morning, the dispatches said, and the air field was in their possession shortly thereafter.

A little earlier the Chinese high command had reported the Japanese attempting to put the field out of commission by systematic destruction, preparatory to their retreat from this strategic base, which they had held since late May.

The high command communique also reported that Lishui, site of the second most important "bomb Japan" base in east China, had been entered by Chinese forces which were engaged in fierce fighting within the city.

The recapture of the Chuhsien base was rated here the greatest success scored thus far by the Chinese armies in their comeback in Chekiang and Kiangsi province, where they are keeping constant pressure on Japanese forces withdrawing from their extensive conquests of May and June.

Berry Picker Disappears On Bull Hill

Alfred Hertz, of This City, Missing Since Early Thursday Afternoon

MANY JOIN IN SEARCH

A large group of men joined in a search for Alfred Hertz, 68, of 4 Melrose Place, who has been missing since he went berry-picking early yesterday afternoon on Bull Hill, near Sheffield.

Mr. Hertz was last seen shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon when he entered the berry-picking territory with F. A. Lesser and William Rowland, of this city.

The search was carried on last night until about midnight and was resumed by a large group this morning. At press time this afternoon no trace of the man had been found.

According to Mr. Lesser, the three men had left Warren about 12:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon to go berrying. Driving to the top of Bull Hill, near Sheffield, they parked the car and went into the berry patch on the lower side of the highway.

He said the men had agreed to meet at the car at 3:30 o'clock and when that time arrived, he and Mr. Rowland returned to the car, but Mr. Hertz failed to appear. After waiting for a short time, the horn of the car was sounded in a pre-arranged signal, but there was no answer.

Mr. Lesser and Mr. Rowland then took turns searching for Mr. Hertz, one remaining at the car in case he should return. They continued the search for about two hours, but to no avail.

Returning to Warren, Mr. Lesser and Mr. Rowland enlisted the aid of volunteers, who carried on the search. In the group who have been assisting are Pvt. L. G. Fobes and Pvt. J. J. Mastrian, of the local (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Restriction On Priorities Is Commended

Washington, Aug. 28—(P)—Donald M. Nelson, urged on Capitol Hill to become a Simon Legree, has cracked a whip over the flow of war materials by stripping the army and navy of their authority to issue priorities.

The war production chief announced last night that effective Sept. 7 power to grant priority ratings will rest solely with WPB district offices. He described the new procedure as a step toward "a much stricter system" of distributing critical materials.

As he spoke, Senator Brewster (R-Maine) a member of the Truman defense committee, told reporters that he commended Nelson's decision to "get tough."

Union Votes To Turn Down WPB Decision

Pittsburgh, Aug. 28—(P)—The Unionized workers in six of the seven plants of the Aluminum Company of America have voted to reject the War Labor Board's decision refusing their request for a general wage increase in the war-vital industry.

Their action permits officers to seven plants of the CIO Aluminum Workers of America said.

The six plants voting to reject, according to union leaders, were New Kensington, Detroit, Marysville, Tenn., Bridgeport, Conn., Baco, N. C., and Edgewater, N. J. Workers at Bacoite, Ark., did not make an immediate report.

Official announcement of the vote awaited the return from Washington of Nick A. Zonari, union president, who said last week (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Large Number To Go To Erie To Take Final Examinations

First Group To Leave Borough Tomorrow, Second Going Monday

WILL GET FURLOUGHS

Nearly one hundred Warren county men will go to Erie over the coming week-end to take final physical examinations prior to possible induction into the U. S. armed forces. The first group, including 40 men from Local Board No. 1, will go to Erie tomorrow, while the second contingent composed of 55 men from Local Board No. 2 will take examinations on Monday.

All of those who go to Erie for final examinations will return home for fourteen-day furloughs before leaving for their army reception center.

Three navy enlistments and one transfer have reduced the size of the group from Local Board No. 1, it was announced today. Originally scheduled to send 41 men to Erie, the number first was increased to 55.

All of those who go to Erie for final examinations will return home for fourteen-day furloughs before leaving for their army reception center.

The secretary could not be reached for comment. Deputy Raymond T. Bowman said there was "no need for comment until he confers with the commission."

The commission said its relief committee "would like to call to Mr. Russell's attention the 40,000 general assistance unemployables under the jurisdiction of the department of public assistance and discuss with him the wisdom of their transfer to another department."

A committee member, Senator George Woodward, of Philadelphia, has suggested that unemployables (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Body of Duke Is At Windsor

London, Aug. 28—(P)—A simple RAF ambulance in drab war paint bore the body of the Duke of Kent today to Windsor—country seat and burial place of Britain's royal family.

Crowds in London's busy Euston Station stood silent and bareheaded as the coffin of the duke, draped with his personal standard and surmounted by a single wreath of red lilies, was removed from the baggage car of an express train.

Aboard the same train were the bodies of three members of the duke's entourage who died with him Tuesday in a flying boat crash in Scotland—his secretary, Lieut. John Lowther; his equerry, Pilot Officer The Honorable Michael Strutt; and valet, Leading Aircraftman Hales.

ONE KILLED, 22 HURT IN BOMBING IN VICHY

Vichy, Aug. 28—(P)—A bomb which exploded in a suburban meeting of Marcel Deat's National Popular headquarters Wednesday night killed one person and wounded 22 others, a Paris dispatch reported today.

The bomb was tossed into a crowd of 1,200 persons from a gallery, the dispatch said.

The attack occurred on the eve of the first anniversary of Paul Colette's attempt to kill Deat and Premier Pierre Laval, both of whom were wounded by pistol bullets.

ALL PASSENGERS ON GRIPSHOLM CLEARED

New York, Aug. 28—(P)—The last of the passengers remaining aboard the diplomatic exchange liner Gripsholm were cleared last night, concluding three days of intensive questioning of more than 1,400 persons who returned from the orient.

Byron H. Uhl, district director of immigration, said that a total of 162 persons were taken from the Gripsholm for further questioning at Ellis Island.

CAMERON CO. FLOOD DAMAGE IS $2,489,320

Emporium, Aug. 28—(P)—Governor James' flood emergency committee has been informed the damage from the July "flash floods" in Cameron county, excluding that in Gibson and West Gibson townships, totaled $2,489,320.

T. C. Frane, chief engineer of the highway department, told a meeting at the Cameron county courthouse last night the governor's committee is seeking information to map a long-range flood control program. He said the program would have to wait until after the war but that some immediate steps could be taken, such as clearing of debris and gravel bars from streams and straightening channels of some streams.

H. Ward Zimmer, president of Emporium borough, advocated changing the course of West Creek from the north side of the railroad tracks to the south side.

Pedigo Warns Of Dismissals

Harrisburg, Aug. 28—(P)—State inheritance and mercantile tax employees in at least 15 counties of Pennsylvania, involved in "payroll padding" charges, face immediate dismissal, J. Paul Pedigo, secretary to Governor James, said today.

Pedigo commented on the action of John P. Boland, Republican register of wills in Philadelphia, in discharging 44 employees of the inheritance tax division, appointed by Auditor General F. Clair Ross, Democratic candidate for governor.

Ross claimed appointment of the employees was necessary.

Pedigo said the discharges "very definitely" were the result of letters sent by Dr. Edward B. Logan, secretary of revenue, to county treasurers and registers of wills "to cut the payroll back to something within reason or he would not okay it."

Pedigo said some employees already had been dismissed in Erie county. He declined to name the other counties.

Stalin Has a Message From Berlin But Not From Hitler

Moscow, Aug. 28—(P)—Premier Joseph Stalin is in receipt of a message from Berlin—but not from Adolf Hitler.

It was radioed from one of the Soviet planes which bombed the German capital the night of Aug. 26-27 while the big four-motored raider was dodging anti-aircraft shells, Russian press accounts said today.

"Comrade Stalin, Moscow: We are over Berlin. Order fulfilled," was the message sent by Capt. Alexander Molodtch, a hero of the Soviet Union and pilot of the first plane to reach Berlin.

To this his crew added: "We are returning to our airdrome. Ready to accomplish any new order."

The Russian planes which bombed Berlin and other German cities flew by instrument through electric storms on one section of their journey, and one plane dropped in a down air current from 15,000 feet to 4,500 feet before checking its descent.

When the raiders reached the Nazi capital the fliers said they found bombing conditions good, with an almost full moon. They were met by a sky full of searchlight beams and bursting shells (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Two Phases of Enemy Activity In the Pacific Are Described

Washington, Aug. 28—(P)—An admonition against any descriptions of the current operations in the Solomon Islands as having brought a major victory for the United Nations came today from one of the highest government authorities.

This authority, who preferred that his name not be used, said that there actually had been two phases of Japanese activities since American forces established themselves in the southeastern Pacific, and he said he was worried lest the press lead the country to believe a great, smashing victory had been achieved.

The first phase, he said, was the landing of 700 Japanese, who were wiped out, on Guadalcanal Island, and a series of smaller attacks by planes in which we came off pretty well, destroying 30 or 32 Jap aircraft and losing four.

The second phase, he said, should not be called a full scale offensive but a reconnaissance in force. This was the movement on the Solomons of units of the Japanese fleet.

This reconnaissance force, the authority asserted, has withdrawn. We hit some ships, he said, and we hope we sunk some, but he would hate to have the people get the idea that a major victory was scored.

British Aiding Drive On Subs

Washington, Aug. 28—(P)—The navy announced today that British planes and fliers have joined the anti-submarine campaign in the western Atlantic.

The official statement said: "Aircraft of the Royal Air Force coastal command are cooperating with the United States naval and army aircraft in anti-submarine operations in the western Atlantic and have already engaged the enemy."

The reference to "aircraft" was interpreted by navy spokesmen to mean both planes and personnel had been dispatched from the British Isles to the United States to aid intensification of the war on the U-boats—a war which naval officials say has been increasingly successful in the last two months.

Women Attending Classes To Take Jobs In War Industries

Pittsburgh, Aug. 28—(P)—More than a thousand Pittsburgh district women, some of them housewives, are attending government-sponsored courses so they can replace men in vital war industries.

A survey today disclosed attendance of the fair sex at the tuition-free courses has increased to such an extent that nearly a third of the class members are women. By the end of the year, at least 50 percent of the students probably will be women.

Many of the women hold down (Turn to Page Thirteen)

ROOSEVELT LAUDED BY CANDIDATE ROSS

Gettysburg, Aug. 28—(P)—Auditor General F. Clair Ross, Democratic candidate for governor, says "every loyal American owes President Roosevelt 'an enormous debt of gratitude.'"

"President Roosevelt is giving the nation superb leadership during these trying days," Ross told an Adams county rally yesterday in urging "unswerving and militant support."

RULES ON STATUS
Harrisburg, Aug. 28—(P)—Induction into military service of justices of the peace and notaries public will not affect their status as public officials, the department of justice ruled yesterday in an opinion requested by Governor James. The ruling said their status was not affected "provided such person is not inducted as, or does not become, a commissioned officer."

Commenting on the governor's announcement of an extra $1,604,000 to be paid to 23,121 workers between Sept. 1 and next May 31, Breslow said:
"These raises cover only a fraction of the state employees. And they do not cover the actual rise in the cost of living."

The fact that this community is achieving better results than the national average in the sales of War Savings Bonds is brought in a report released today by R. W. Mackay, chairman of the War Savings Committee of Warren and Forest Counties, representing the War Savings Staff of the United States Treasury Department.

Beginning with the "Pledge for Victory" campaign in April, which was ably handled by some eight hundred air raid wardens and other "Minute Men" workers, there have been increasing efforts to cooperate in the national program of stimulating War Savings Bonds sales. The "Retailers for Victory" drive in July added impetus and the "Salute to our Heroes" program to be conducted by the moving picture industry during September will strengthen the appeal to everyone.

The figures shown in this article indicate the sales for the months of May, June and July, and the first half of August in both Warren and Forest counties, showing the percentage of quota reached in each month and it is interesting to note that in both Warren and Forest counties the National percentage was exceeded, as indicated by comparison with the percentage of quota for each month.

The national quotas for the past three months were: May—$600,000,000; June—$800,000,000; July—$1,000,000,000.

Chapter 11
Tyra Relents—A Little

WHILE they worked the sun sank and the swift tropical darkness came on.

"At least we can have a hot meal tonight," Gil remarked.

"I'm going to see if I can spear some fish," Sandy said. He found hooks and a line and started up the river toward a pool, but he had not gone far when one of Tyra's Indians came bounding after him.

"Senorita Tyra says there is plenty of fish for all. We caught them today."

Reflecting that this evidence of hospitality was somewhat encouraging, Sandy retraced his steps.

A fire was going in the place where Tyra had pitched her camp. Tyra was turning fish on a skewer. The aroma was tantalizing to a hungry man who had been paddling up a river all day with nothing more than cold tortillas for lunch.

"This is a pleasant surprise," he told her at once. "Fresh fish that you don't have to catch yourself. How about giving you a hand with the skewers?"

"They are almost ready," she said. "Over in your camp Mrs. Brotherton is fixing something to go with them."

Sandy waited until she handed him three delicately barbecued fish, on three broad leaves. Then, muttering more thanks, he joined Helen and Gil.

Helen had boiled rice in the expedition's one pot. "When we're settled I'll find flavorings," she promised in a housewifely tone. "But I can't do much now."

After the meal Sandy strolled over to Tyra's camp. The fire had died to embers and she sat gazing into it moodily.

"I suppose we start early in the morning," Sandy said, stepping close to the fire.

"Yes."

"As soon as we can organize the packs."

Sandy lingered a moment thinking perhaps she would show an inclination to talk further. When she didn't, he turned back to his own camp.

Helen was waiting for him alone. Her eyes went swiftly over his face. She said jerkily—"There's something wrong about that girl. When I think of trusting all our lives to her I have cold chills."

"Your woman's intuition," Sandy observed dryly. "Tyra Fleming is all right. She's different because she has lived with Indians so much."

Helen stirred a little. "You like her, don't you, Sandy?"

"She is an extremely interesting girl," Sandy said, shortly. "Well, goodnight, Helen. Dawn comes early and we're going to have a hard day."

But Helen did not retire at once. She sat staring across the dark space to the other campfire, and when she did crawl into her tent she did not sleep for a long time, but lay gazing up at the canvas peak above her head and hearing Sandy's voice, saying—"She is an extremely interesting girl."

At last Helen doubled her hands into fists and beat impatiently at the sleeping bag.

"You can't have him! You can't!" she sobbed out.

Part of Her Secret

THE disposal of the provisions and equipment they were forced to leave behind presented Sandy and Gil with many problems the next morning.

At last Sandy and Gil devised a plan they believed would insure preservation of their foodstuffs. Gil built a palm-frond shelter with a central rafters. While he was occupied with that work, Sandy fitted the extra provisions into knapsacks. He had suspended the kettle chains in the smoke of the fire and when they were coated with creosote he was ready to hang the packs from Gil's rafter. The extra tools, clothing and other articles were wrapped in canvas and placed in the shelter, also.

While Sandy was working near the fire, Tyra sauntered over. She watched a moment, not speaking.

Sandy looked up at her and grinned. "I'm not entirely satisfied with these arrangements, but with no more time, it is the best we can do."

"Your stores might last quite awhile," she said.

"I hope they'll last until we can come back for them. By the way, Miss Fleming, I'd give something to know how you persuaded two natives to come with you into this country. I couldn't do it."

He thought a flicker of a smile crossed her features, but she said soberly, "If you look at Manuel and Erasto closely you'll see they aren't Isthmus Indians. They are Yaguis."

Yaguis, from southern Sonora! Sandy, afraid of nothing, not even swarms of soldiers equipped with all the accoutrements of modern warfare! Sandy had seen some of them in Yucatan where they had been sent by the Mexican Government some years before.

"That explains the matter," he said. "You merely imported your servants knowing that they would not be filled with the local superstitions. That was smart planning, Miss Fleming. I should have thought of it myself. I did—too late."

"My father and I didn't import Manuel and Erasto especially for this expedition," she stated. "They have been with us a long time. Jose, too. He stayed with my father."

Grim Enemies

SANDY'S eyes went over the smooth, tanned legs and gently swelling curves of the girl. But when he spoke it was of something quite different.

"Miss Fleming, you said last night that you were expecting us. You knew we were following you, then?"

"I suspected you were, from things I heard in Onha. Gossip travels by all sorts of underground routes there," she said. "At the village where I stayed night before last I asked them to watch and if you passed to let me know by a drum signal."

The girl had known just how far they were behind her! No wonder she had been posed dramatically on the bank when they approached!

"I hope you won't regret that we are along," Sandy said. "Personally, I'm looking forward to this opportunity of knowing you better. And I'm eager to meet your father, too. I think we might all find a great deal in common."

It was a pleasant little speech, and it had the virtue of being utterly sincere.

Tyra's eyes shifted uneasily, then came back to Sandy. "Are you familiar with the insects called niguas?"

"Seems to me I've heard of them. Disagreeable beasts, aren't they? Don't they lay a sac of eggs under your toenails?"

She nodded. "And you have to remove the sac without breaking it."

"Do you find them in this country?"

"Yes. Do you know the tajales?"

Sandy did not. "Are they here, too?"

"In some spots. They are worse than the niguas. They work at night. They bite and leave a blister. In a short time a purple bruise forms around the blister. If the blister is broken it leaves a running sore which eventually causes death. Look out for them. They are little grey fellows."

"Can't you coach me in zoology as we go along?" he asked.

"Maybe it will be possible—sometimes."

Sandy gazed after her when she crossed to her own camp. "Maybe." What in thunder did the girl mean?

THE RUMML TAX PLAN

Apparently Congress is giving some consideration to the revolutionary income tax plan suggested by Beardsley Ruml, treasurer of a large New York department store, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and adviser to the National Resources Planning Board, which has been mentioned frequently the past few days in AP dispatches in the Times-Mirror.

In that event, the 27 millions who will pay an income tax next year should get busy and let Congress know what they think of the idea.

What do they think of it? We don't know. But we believe that the more the public considers the plan, the stronger will be the pressure on Congress to accept Mr. Ruml's suggestion.

What this experienced financier proposes, in brief, is that the Treasury discard the fiction that taxes paid in any one year are on the earnings of the previous year.

In a hypothetical case, here is how it would work: Mr. John Q. Public in 1942 will earn a total of $3500. Under the present system, next March 15 he must try to pay an income tax on that salary. But next year he will be in the Army, drawing $50 a month or a total of $600.

Unless he is one of a small minority, he has not saved this year the money with which to pay the tax next March. He intended to pay it out of 1943 earnings. Obviously he will not be able to do that.

So Mr. Ruml proposes that the tax paid by Mr. Public next March be considered as on his 1943 income. He will have to pay a tax measured by the $3500 he earned this year. But, knowing that he will be in line for a refund at the end of the year, at worst he can borrow the necessary sum.

On the other hand, consider Mr. J. P. Rich, whose company is doing a big war business and, unlike most such, is increasing its profit. Mr. Rich this year will make only $35,000. Next March 15 he will pay a tax on that amount. The next year, 1943, he is going to make $50,000. If Mr. Ruml's plan is adopted, Rich won't escape with the tax on $35,000 in a year in which he made $50,000.

When Rich pays on March 15, 1944, he will fork over the amount established by the $50,000 he made in 1943, plus a tax on the extra $15,000 on which he did not pay in 1943.

In other words, the tax each year would be measured tentatively by the past year's earnings.

If with this is combined a withholding tax after next Jan. 1, then nobody in the working class brackets would have to worry about where to find the money to pay his income tax. Most of it already would have been paid out of earnings.

UNCLE SAM MEANS BUSINESS

There is a fairly general idea that a great deal of chiseling is going on against price and rationing regulations. Probably there is some. But Leon Henderson's office wants it understood that there are penalties attached, and judges have made it clear that those penalties will be applied.

An Indianan who broke a rationing regulation was sent to jail for 18 months and fined $500. A California tire bootlegger was fined $3000 and given a year's suspended jail sentence. A Minnesotan who lied about the sugar he had on hand was sent to jail for six months and fined $2100. Three Texas price-ceiling violators were fined $3000 and sent to jail for 20 months each.

It does not pay to try Uncle Sam's patience too far.

Berry pickers of the section are making the best of what everyone declares has been a bumper season.

To those responsible for the fine report on War Bond sales in Warren and Forest counties, our congratulations.

It isn't what the waves are saying anymore—it's what a swell job the WAVES are doing.

One more week, kiddies!

Go to church Sunday, and if you drive, invite others to accompany you.

Waiting to Slide Down the Beanstalk

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — That gloomy report of the Office of War Information about our being only ankle-deep in this war so far wasn't eye-wash.

At least, a good many government officials in the highest places — armed with all of the information available on this war — think just that. Recently I sat through an off-the-record session with such an official. He has been twice to England and in many conferences with Churchill. He has been present at most of the war cabinet meetings here. He is constantly in touch with the British and Russians. He was not talking "or public" but his name can't be used.

"ON MY calendar," he told me, "this war couldn't possibly be over before 1946 and probably not before 1948. After we defeat Hitler, it will take two years at the minimum to knock out the Japs and I doubt very much if we can begin to push Hitler around in Europe before 1945."

He said that those persons who anticipate a collapse of Germany (or Japan either) because of shortages of materials or manpower are just wishful thinkers. And that the facts are that German production and manpower are at their highest peak and growing daily.

In spite of his prediction about the length of the duration, he expressed the opinion that casualties wouldn't nearly approach those of the World War.

"There will, of course, be casualties," he said.

In some cases they will be shocking. But this is a war of materials and machines and shipping such as the world has never seen. In this war, he explained, it will be the men who get their fustest with the mostest of those things who will win it. To knock out 1,000 medium tanks might wreck a huge offensive, but in those tanks would only be 3,000 men.

AS FOR the second front, this official refused to join in the clamor of other armchair generals. Disclaiming any knowledge of military strategy, he expressed grave doubt that a second front would have the desired effect of diverting the Germans from their Russian offensive.

If it did, even if it cost a half million men and all their equipment, he thought it might be worth it; but for the very reason that the Nazis have the manpower and possibly the machine power, they might be able to combat a second front to a stalemate without being diverted.

As for the thousand-plane raids on German cities, this observer said very emphatically and from first-hand knowledge that they were far more spectacular than effective. To raze a city is one thing; to raze enough camouflage and well-hidden war factories to wreck the war effort or even halt it for any length of time is another.

These are just some of the personal opinions expressed by one man—but that man is in a position to be in the know. He may be wrong, but so may be others.

County Agent's News

HOUSING HELPS PULLETS WITH THEIR EGG LAYING

Much of the success which the poultryman achieves with his new pullet crop may depend upon the care with which he prepares their quarters for the egg production year ahead, says County Agent O. C. Tritt.

Experienced poultrymen know that a well-grown lot of pullets is the primary requirement for success. With good feeding and management, quite satisfactory results often are achieved in mediocre poultry buildings. Better housing, however, means the difference between profit and loss to many other poultrymen who may not be so experienced in meeting the fowls' daily needs under varying conditions of weather, production and health.

Often, even though pullets may be well-grown and matured, houses may be comfortably arranged, and feeding ample to meet the fowls' needs, yet other management factors may "go glimmering" as a result, reminds Mr. Tritt. Possibly a "check-up" of the following essential factors may help every unnecessary losses:

1. Make room for pullet layers by a systematic or planned program of culling older fowls.
2. Remodel or repair existing buildings after the old fowls are gone and before housing the new crop of layers.
3. Thoroughly clean the laying quarters and equipment follow dry cleaning with washing and disinfection to minimize danger of infestation of the pullets with "carry-over" troubles from the old flock.
4. Delouse pullets in range buildings or shortly after they are housed in permanent quarters.
5. Endeavor to make house conditions meet range conditions as near as possible, considering weather, health of fowls, and stage of production.

Shortage Of Stenogs For Bureau Jobs

The shortage of stenographers in Washington is so great that it is becoming a patriotic duty for women free to do so to accept positions with the war agencies there, Manager C. D. Hertzog of the Third United States Civil Service District announced today.

Mr. Hertzog, pointing to the large scale recruiting effort Civil Service has undertaken for stenographers, suggested that women not now employed in war or vital civilian industry should seriously consider employment in Washington as a duty, rather than as a sacrifice or opportunity to make money.

At the same time, he declared that federal salaries for stenographers certainly are on a level with those of private industry. Salaries in such positions start at $1440 a year—about $120 a month. In the Commission's new, all-out recruitment program, examinations are arranged through any first or second class post office in cities and towns where there is no Civil Service office and full information can be obtained through any post office, Mr. Hertzog pointed out.

Final Outdoor Concert To Be Presented by Orchestra And Band at Beatty Grounds

Two major musical attractions, the last of a very successful series of outdoor band and orchestra concerts sponsored by the new Warren Community Music Association and school music directors, have been arranged for this weekend.

The first is the "balanced band" concert to be presented at 7:30 o'clock this evening on Beatty school lawn; the second, the community symphony program and hymn-sing scheduled at four o'clock Sunday afternoon at the same location.

Director Harry A. Summers has planned two very enjoyable programs, tonight's to be carried out in these columns last evening and Sunday's numbers as announced today.

In addition to orchestral compositions to be heard Sunday afternoon, instrumental music will include a cello solo played by W. A. Greaves and a selection by the stringed section. The program follows:

Procession of the Mastersingers from "Die Meistersingers", Act III—Wagner
Adagio from Sonata Pathétique, opus 13—Beethoven.

Cello solo—W. O. Greaves, with Mrs. T. H. Conway accompanist.
Allegro from Eine Kleine Nachtmusik—Mozart. String orchestra.
Bacchanale from "Samson and Delilah"—Saint-Saens.

Outdoor concerts on such a large scale is a new community enterprise this summer, an outgrowth of earlier projects of the School Music Boosters' Club and a ready entertainment answer to one of the major wartime transportation problems.

Previous presentations by both orchestra and massed bands have been well patronized by the community, making necessary erection of additional bleachers in the school quadrangle to handle increasing audiences. Since a silver offering to defray orchestration and band music is the only financial return asked by the record group, it is anticipated that record numbers will attend tonight's and Sunday's concerts.

It was stated today by those in charge of arrangements that both tonight's and Sunday's program will be played in the school gymnasium in case of rain at concert time.

with a contest, in charge of Mrs. Scott Stuart, with Mrs. Mabel Dallas receiving the high score and Mrs. James Pelton, the consolation. Dainty buffet refreshments were served with Mrs. Haggerty and Mrs. McIntosh pouring.

Mrs. Margaret Woodside conducted the devotions and Miss Flossie Broughton gave a reading. Poems were read by Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. Adna Broughton.

RUBBER ARTICLES LAST LONGER WITH GOOD CARE

It behooves every person to make rubber articles used in the home last as long as possible, for many of these cannot be replaced.

By keeping rubber sheets, aprons, raincoats, or any rubber coated cloth clean, you can lengthen their service, explains Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, home economics extension representative, Warren county. To clean these items, spread flat on a firm surface and wash with a soft brush, neutral soap, and lukewarm water. Rinse thoroughly, dry with a cloth, or hang in a cool, airy and shady place until dry. Before folding, dust with talcum powder or cornstarch, and store in a cool dark place.

To make hot water bottles, ice packs, and rubber tubing last longer, dry them thoroughly after using each time. Keep them away from heat and put them in the box in which you bought them, or hang them up by the eyelet or ring. Coil the tubing loosely and lay it flat, or allow it to hang straight. Kinks or sharp bends will cause it to crack.

Tears or leaks in hot water bottles or ice packs may be mended with inerrant patching and rubber cement, says Mrs. Prendergast. To do this, be sure the article is thoroughly dry. Work on the inside if possible. Roughen the surface of the rubber around the tear with sandpaper. Apply two coats of cement and allow to dry. Cut a piece of patching, at least a half inch larger all around than the hole to be mended, remove the holland cloth and place the patch on the tar. Press firmly and hold down with a weight until the patch is well set.

Gloves with worn bottoms may be repaired in the same way with the ready-made rubber soles.

Clothing made with rubber thread requires careful handling when it is laundered. Use a mild soap and lukewarm water and rinse well to remove all traces of soap. Stretch as little as possible. Dry in a cool well-ventilated place out of the sun. Repair worn places and tears and cut them to cut the rubber thread with the needle by using too fine a thread.

Tiahuanaco, Bolivia, is said to antedate even Ur and the ancient pyramids.

Farm Calendar

Harrisburg, Aug. 27.—(P)—Pennsylvania stands to lose 20 to 30 per cent of its peach crop this year because of the wet weather, the Department of Agriculture reports.

"Rains over the past several weeks, frequently of torrential volume, have made picking of the fruit impossible for days at a time," Secretary John H. Light declared.

The wet weather has also prevented hauling peaches from orchards to the markets, he added.

Conditions resulting from the rainy season, Light said, has caused a peach demand that "far exceeds the supply."

He explained that peaches ripen quickly and are lost to use if not picked at the proper time.

Orchardists are placing their hope in a turn in the weather conditions for the remainder of the crop, which consists largely of the Elberta and Hale varieties, the harvesting of which will continue in southern counties until Labor Day.

The wet spell has caused reverse conditions in the Erie grape belt where the moisture has improved the quality of the fruit and advanced the ripening stage at least two weeks.

The yield is estimated at 19,800 tons as compared to 13,400 tons last year and the previous 10-year average of 20,430 tons.

A survey of 39 Pennsylvania counties by Agriculture Department agents show cereal grains have not been seriously damaged this year by stem rust.

Hot and dry weather in April and the first half of May prevented the spread of the barberry stage of stem rust, the survey showed, and halted further development later in the season although the wet weather usually brings rust epidemic.

"As a result only a few cases of stem rust on wheat, barley, oats and rye have been found and the damage is negligible," the report stated.

Leaf rust, however, has been found on wheat throughout the state and the quality of the grain slightly lowered but "damage was not considered material except in southern counties."

Only 277 of the 50,847 cattle tested for tuberculosis last month were found to be infected with the disease.

Secretary Light, under whose supervision the tests are made, said $7,077 were paid out by the state and $5,417 by the federal government in indemnities for condemned cattle.

The meat hygiene division also reported that 34,760 ante-mortem examinations were made and 119 carcasses of cattle intended for meat consumption.

A total of 3,835,555 pounds of meat and meat products were examined and 23,673 pounds condemned.

Latest reports on effects of the potato blight indicate Pennsylvania's crop will be cut to 20,068,000 bushels as compared to 20,540,000 bushels last year although the acreage for both years—158,000—is the same.

The department added that the blight on the late crop is widespread because of wet weather which has prevented regular spraying—the only method in combating the disease.

Many Receive Training For War Industry

Some 250,000 persons have received industrial training in a state-wide program for war production workers which education officials today reported had completed its 23rd month of operation, says an Associated Press dispatch, from Harrisburg.

The Warren borough school district recently started its class in machine tool operation here and in other schools of the county, similar training is being offered.

"Pennsylvanians may well take pride in the fact that our training program x x x in which approximately 250,000 individuals have been given industrial training was well underway fully 15 months before war was declared," said Dr. Francis E. Haas, superintendent of public instruction.

Reporting on findings of special committees studying means of advancing the Keystone state's contribution to the war effort, Dr. Haas said:

"Aviation education becomes a matter of serious concern for teachers and administrators of public schools in a world which has been revolutionized by air power."

The committee on aviation education recommends pre-flight training for high school students and suggested that attention be given to aviation in teaching other elementary and secondary school subjects.

New subject matter and more appropriate methods in social studies and geography were recommended by several educators. Need was stressed for more thorough teaching of the backgrounds of the war and "an appreciation of the struggle for, and origin of, our present liberties."

Proposals for preparing teachers for new responsibilities in Pennsylvania schools were offered by the committee on teacher education. Maintenance of standards of competence was called a difficult but necessary goal "if children and youth are to be prepared to face the complex problems of the war and post-war periods."

Timely Reminders From the Pennsylvania State College
School of Agriculture

Housing Helps Layers.—Good housing helps the new pullet crop to produce eggs to the limit of their ability. Poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State College say that, of course, a well-grown lot of pullets is the primary requisite for success. Good feeding and management, too, must accompany the other requirements, but good housing prevents problems arising from changing weather conditions.

Plant Cover Crops.—To conserve nitrogen which otherwise would leach away during the winter and to control soil erosion, sow cover crops in the peach orchard. Fruit specialists of the Pennsylvania State College report that domestic ryegrass, rye, and hairy vetch will produce satisfactory cover crops.

Compare Early Tomatoes.—Vegetable specialists of the Pennsylvania State College announce that extension demonstrations have been conducted this year in comparing Penn Heart, Victor, Valiant, Stokesdale, John Baer, Scarlet Down, Pritchard, and new unnamed strains of tomatoes for earliness and marketable yield.

Save Tractor Gasoline.—Periodical adjustment of the farm tractor will save gasoline and result in an even flow of power. Penn State agricultural engineers have found in their work on farm machinery. In some cases, two gallons a day were saved.

Lettuce Resists Heat.—Great Lakes is the most heat-resistant strain of New York type lettuce grown in extension demonstrations in Lancaster and Philadelphia counties, report Penn State specialists.

Prune Rambler Roses.—Cut most of last year's shoots out of the rambler roses, since the new growth will be productive of flowers next year, remind Penn State ornamental horticulturists.

RAF STAGES ATTACK ON ITALIAN CRUISER

Cairo, Aug. 28.—(P)—An attack by RAF torpedo-carrying aircraft on an Italian cruiser of the 7,547-ton Giuseppe Garibaldi class Wednesday night off Antikythera island, northwest of Crete, was reported by British headquarters today.

The British announcement said that the results of the attack on the cruiser could not be observed because of heavy anti-aircraft fire, but that the next morning a sinking, burning ship which might have been either the warship or the merchantman was seen northwest of the island.

GERMANS INTERNED IN ARGENTINA ESCAPE

Buenos Aires, Aug. 28.—(P)—More than 100 crewmen from the scuttled German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee have fled internment in Argentina and at least six are now fighting against the United Nations, Juan Antonio Solari, chairman of a congressional committee investigating anti-Argentine activities, said today.

Solari declined to give full details concerning the report, but said it would show clearly how numbers of the interned Germans escaped by organized methods and made their way home to rejoin Germany's fighting forces.
